Focus on the Gospel

On the Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time we read Mark's version of the call of the Twelve - sending them out in teams of two with his healing power and his authority over unclean spirits. He told them "to take nothing for the journey." God would take care of them.

This week, the first readings are from the Book of the Prophet Isaiah. The preaching of the first part of Isaiah contains powerful words about the infidelity of the people and the kings, God's sanctions so as to purify a people who would be faithful. On Saturday, we begin reading from the Book of the Prophet Micah.

In our readings from Matthew's Gospel we read more about the challenge of being a disciple of Jesus. He calls us to a bond with him that is even greater than the bonds of family. "Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it." Jesus reproaches towns where he worked miracles and the people had not repented. Jesus thanks God that, though the wise and the learned remain in unbelief, the childlike are open to God's grace and believe. Jesus says, "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest." Taking on discipleship we will find that it is easy and we will find rest in him. When controversy comes up about his disciples' picking grain to eat on the Sabbath, Jesus give a startling response to the judgment of the Pharisees: "I desire mercy, not sacrifice." Jesus leaves town when the Pharisees want to kill him to fulfill the Prophet Isaiah: "He will not contend or cry out, nor will anyone hear his voice in the streets. A bruised reed he will not break, a smoldering wick he will not quench, until he brings justice to victory."

Service is an integral part of being a good steward. Some people shy away from serving others because they feel underequipped or, in some way, incapable. You only have to look at today's readings to see that God does not require anything more than a willing heart. In the first reading we see the prophet Amos, a shepherd, called into the service of the Lord. In the Gospel we find the disciples, sent two by two, to spread the Good News to all the corners of the Earth. To be a good steward does not require college degrees or letters of recommendation. Rather, it requires eyes that seek opportunities to do God's will and hands that are willing to do the work. Amos was called out of the simple life of a shepherd. Matthew was a despised tax collector. Peter was a fisherman. God is calling everyone into service. God is calling YOU. Will you respond?
